

4-H Military Partnership Connections

A new year brings fresh possibilities and renewed energy to our military youth development community. January is an opportunity to pause and acknowledge the dedication you show to military-connected youth each day, while also looking ahead. Your commitment makes a meaningful difference by fostering a sense of belonging, growth, and confidence in young people as they navigate the unique challenges of military life.

Clearinghouse for Military Family Readiness

We have created a toolkit to help school personnel support military-connected students. The toolkit includes resources to use within the school setting or to share with families. Resources include brochures, directories and handouts/printables that offer information on informal strategies or formal programs that may assist school personnel who work with military-connected students and families.

4-H Family Dinner: Bringing Families to the Table

Presenter: Abbie Salmon, University of Georgia

Thursday, January 15 2026 14:00 ET

In today's fast-paced world, the 4-H Family Dinner program empowers families to reclaim meaningful time together. By encouraging shared meals, the program fosters communication, resilience, and essential life skills which are key traits for youth to be Beyond Ready for life's challenges. Through monthly recipes and family engagement, participants build stronger bonds and develop habits that support emotional well-being and personal growth. This session will provide an overview of the 4-H Family Dinner program and give you the resources to start one in your community.

Previously recorded sessions are available on-demand.
